

Information from the Republic of Bulgaria regarding Directive 2011/99/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council on the European protection order

Pursuant to Article 3(1) and Article 17 of Directive 2011/99/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council on the European protection order, the Republic of Bulgaria hereby provides the following information:

(1) Information pursuant to Article 3(1) ('Designation of competent authorities'):

- The competent authority in the Republic of Bulgaria for recognising a European protection order issued in another Member State is the district court for the protected person's place of residence. Where the protected person is not resident in the country, the Sofia City Court is competent for recognising the European protection order.
- The competent authority for issuing a European protection order in the Republic of Bulgaria is the court competent to examine the case in which a coercive measure is adopted as a protection measure (Article 67 of the Code of Criminal Procedure). In cases where a probation measure consisting of 'restrictions on free movement' is imposed (Article 42b(3)(1) of the Criminal Code), the authority competent to issue a European protection order is the district court for the place of the order's execution.

Bulgaria has 113 regional courts, 28 district courts, 7 appellate courts, 3 military courts, 1 Specialised Criminal Court and 1 Supreme Court of Cassation. A list of the courts and their contact details can be found in the Annex.

(2) Declaration pursuant to Article 17 ('Languages'):

The Republic of Bulgaria declares that it will accept European protection orders and notifications under Article 12 of the Directive that are translated into Bulgarian.

List of the Bulgarian competent authorities under Art. 3, para 1 of the Directive
2011/99/EU on the European protection order
